Company thanks Sanjeev Narula for his role in the successful execution of ViatriS' Phase 1 strategy; Narula will support a smooth CFO transition prior to his departure on March 1, 2024

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 15, 2023 /PRNewswire/ -- ViatriS Inc. (NASDAQ: VTRS), a global healthcare company, today announced that, as it prepares to enter Phase 2 of its strategic plan, Theodora "Doretta" Mistras has been appointed Chief Financial Officer (CFO) effective March 1, 2024, and Philippe Martin has been appointed Chief R&D Officer with immediate effect.

Current ViatriS CFO Sanjeev Narula, who helped the company successfully execute its Phase 1 strategy, will work closely with Mistras to support a smooth transition and will then depart the company on March 1, 2024.

Doretta Mistras

Mistras, an accomplished healthcare financial executive with deep industry knowledge and vast experience across the spectrum of healthcare, was most recently Managing Director, Healthcare Investment Banking at Citigroup Global Markets and prior to that was Managing Director, Healthcare Investment Banking at Goldman Sachs. She has almost two decades of leadership, advisory and capital markets experience helping guide corporate boards and leadership teams on matters affecting corporate strategy, including business development, financial planning, corporate finance and investor relations.

Mistras has also advised leading healthcare corporations on a multitude of important financial and strategic decisions, including M&A, joint ventures, and capital market transactions totaling over $240 billion in aggregate value.

Scott A. Smith, Chief Executive Officer of ViatriS, said, "As we continue our preparations for Phase 2 of our strategy, I am extremely pleased to have Doretta coming on board as my strategic financial partner for what I expect to be an extremely successful next phase for ViatriS. With her deep healthcare industry knowledge and extensive finance experience within all sectors of healthcare, as well as her capital markets and investor relations expertise, Doretta is the perfect fit for the exciting future we are continuing to build. Her impressive profile, combined with our existing high-performing and seasoned corporate finance team will create what I believe will be one of the strongest financial organizations in our industry."

Mistras said, "I could not be more excited to have the opportunity to join Viatris as Chief Financial Officer and to partner with Scott and the entire management team on all of the exciting opportunities ahead as the company sets sail into an expected period of expanded growth. Having known this company for years as a healthcare industry strategic advisor and having worked with public companies across the healthcare landscape, I know well the unique value proposition that Viatris presents, as well as the importance of upholding its well-established and communicated capital allocation plan. I look forward to combining my areas of expertise with the strong financial foundation and team that the company already has in place to not only deliver but enhance shareholder value."

Sanjeev Narula said, "It has been my incredible honor to have had the opportunity to play a part in the successful set-up phase for Viatris and to lead its first-class group of finance professionals. I cannot thank the company and its leadership enough for the opportunity and especially my team and all of the members of the Viatris family for their consistent performance and overall dedication to our mission. I am extremely proud of all that we have accomplished together and look forward to working closely with Doretta during this transition phase to ensure both her and the company's continued long-term success."

Added Smith, "On behalf of the Board of Directors and our entire company, I sincerely thank Sanjeev Narula for his tremendous service and dedication to Viatris. His financial expertise played an important role in building and enhancing the company's strong foundation. He leaves Viatris with an extremely strong finance team in place to support Doretta and the entire company as we move forward. We wish him nothing but the best as he prepares to begin his next chapter."

Philippe Martin

As Chief R&D Officer, Martin brings with him significant innovative product development experience across R&D, Scientific and Regulatory Affairs, including at Celgene, where he led the development and global registration of the blockbuster drugs Otezla® and Zeposia®. He also oversaw the company pipeline in early and late development across multiple indications and modalities in the fields of inflammation and immunology, neurology, oncology, hepatology, and gastroenterology, including planning and overseeing the successful execution of large Phase III clinical studies. Prior to his tenure at Celgene, Martin held multiple positions at Schering-Plough (acquired by Merck) where he managed the inflammation and immunology franchise, including the anti-TNF alpha collaboration with Centocor/Johnson & Johnson which included the worldwide development, approval, and commercialization of Remicade® and Simponi®.

Added Smith, "I am very pleased to have Philippe join Viatris as Chief R&D Officer. As we continue our move up the value chain, I expect his significant innovative product experience to play an important role in partnering with me to assess and then execute upon the exciting new product development assets I see ahead, adding to our very strong existing base business and pipeline."

Martin added, "I have been thoroughly impressed by the existing R&D expertise and infrastructure I have seen at Viatris that fuels the consistent output of its pipeline, especially as it relates to complex generics. I am excited to add my expertise to this very strong foundation, especially in the innovative product space."
